Finish Terminology

- End Grain

End grain surfaces and softer areas of the wood may accept more stain and often appear darker than other surfaces. This is a natural reaction when finishing wood products and potential variances cannot be controlled.

- Joint Lines

Since wood is in a constant state of expansion and contraction, visible lines are normal at the joints on the cabinet face frames and doors. This does not weaken the finish or the strength of the joint.

- Distressing

Factory-applied techniques that give wood a furniture-aged look. Random wormholes, compression marks and corner oversanding are distressing elements used to convey gently aged fine furniture.

- Telegraphing

All wood species show some wood grain. The amount of grain will vary by species and finish. Oak is an open or coarse grain wood. The grain will “telegraph” or visibly show through the stain. Birch and Maple are closed or fine grain woods. Some “telegraphing” will occur, though the effect will be subtle.

- Semi-Opaque Color Finishes

KraftMaid’s semi-opaque finishes feature a heavily pigmented stain utilizing a hand-applied process. They are semi-opaque, which may telegraph some of the natural beauty of wood. Joint lines and telegraphing may occur with any semi-opaque finish.

Wood products, including cabinet doors and face frames, are typically affected by environmental conditions. Color variation over time, as well as normal movement due to wood’s expansion and contraction is part of the natural beauty of wood. This normal movement may cause hairline cracks in the finish surface at the joints and is considered a normal characteristic of semi-opaque or painted finishes. This will not be considered a reason for product replacement.

Important Note: Based on independent testing, discoloration will occur to doors, drawers and cabinet parts after prolonged exposure to tobacco smoke. This is especially noticeable on white and other lighter finishes. However, KraftMaid Cabinetry does not warranty any of its finishes against discoloration due to exposure to smoke.

Standard Stains

(price book pg. B1)

- Stain Finish Process

Stained finishes truly showcase the natural beauty and characteristics inherent in each individual wood species. Based on the stain color chosen, a toner may be applied to the wood to equalize natural sap levels. The stain color is applied and hand-rubbed to ensure full and equal color coverage for doors and drawer fronts.

As a final step, our oven-cured DuraKraft topcoat is applied to provide a beautiful and durable furniture finish

- Unfinished

Our cabinetry, moldings and accessories are available unfinished. If you use the unfinished option, you must order unfinished wood veneer skins, plywood construction or wood ends both for all cabinet with exposed ends. Unfinished cabinetry will be supplied with standard Viraguard interior. To get unfinished wood veneer interiors, you must order each cabinet with a Matching Interior option other than MIV. On cabinets that are standard MIV, you must order each cabinet with a Matching Interior option other than MIV, order each cabinet with Furniture Plywood Ends (FPEB) or place the cabinets on an order with All Plywood Construction (APC).

Caution: Unfinished cabinets lack the protection of a finish coat and are more susceptible to damage from variations in temperature and humidity. For this reason, we do not recommend or warranty this option.

Important Note: Based on independent testing, discoloration will occur to doors, drawers and cabinet parts after prolonged exposure to tobacco smoke. This is especially noticeable on white and other lighter finishes. However, KraftMaid Cabinetry does not warranty any of its finishes against discoloration due to exposure to smoke.

Premium Painted Finishes

(price book pg. B1)

- Painted Finish Process

Painted finishes feature several coats of a heavily pigmented stain using an automated application process. These finishes are semi-opaque, meaning some of the natural beauty of the wood grain may show through the painted stain.

The natural characteristic of wood creates a constant state of expansion and contraction in every door and drawer front. This results in continual expansion and contraction of joint lines. In all painted finishes, it is normal for these joint lines to show and is part of the inherent beauty of these finishes on natural wood. This expansion does not weaken the finish or the strength of the joint.

Premium Stain w/Glaze Finishes

(price book pg. B2)

- Stain w/Glaze Finish Process
Glazed finishes add richness and warmth to wood surfaces
The base stain or paint finish is applied followed by the application of a glaze finish to the entire door or drawer front to add richness and warmth to wood surfaces.
The glaze is then hand-wiped to create a soft, light “hang up” in profiles and recesses of the wood
A glaze highlight is hand-applied to detail the recesses of applicable door and drawer designs
Each door design, wood species and glaze finish has its own charming character and will create a unique, one-of-a-kind look
As a final step, our oven-cured DuraKraft topcoat is applied to provide a beautiful and durable furniture finish
Finish availability may vary by door style. See Finish Availability Chart

Premium Highlight Finishes

(price book pg. B2)

- Highlight Finish Process

Highlighted finishes feature a standard stain that is “highlighted” with hand-applied glaze color in the recessed areas of doors and drawer fronts. This unique process does not alter the base color of the door, yet adds an additional highlight color to enhance the profiles and recesses of the door design.

As a final step, our oven-cured DuraKraft topcoat is applied to provide a beautiful and durable furniture finish

Finish availability may vary by door style. See Finish Availability Chart

Premium Antique Glaze Finishes

(price book pg. B2)

- Antique Glaze Finish Process

Antique Glazed finishes combine several techniques to create beautiful cabinetry with an heirloom look

This process begins with worm holes and compression marks randomly applied to unfinished doors and drawer fronts, duplicating the look of distressed furniture. (Note: Physical distressing is not applied to recessed center panels.)

Next, the base finish color is applied followed by a glaze flood coat that is hand-wiped to create a soft, light glaze “hang up” in corners and profile recesses

A glaze highlight is hand-applied to detail the recesses of applicable door and drawer designs

Because this process features distressing, glazing and highlighting, the detail and look will vary from piece to piece

Each door design, wood species and glaze finish has its own charming character and will create a unique, one-of-a-kind look

As a final step, our oven-cured DuraKraft topcoat is applied to provide a beautiful and durable furniture finish

Available on selected Birch and Cherry door styles

Finish availability may vary by door style. See Finish Availability Chart

- Antique Chocolate w/Mocha Glaze

Chocolate stain background with Mocha Glaze hang-up in corners and profile recesses with flyspeck highlights.

Premium Burnished Finishes

(price book pg. B2, B3)

- Burnished Finish Process

Burnished finishes create a warm, traditional look, resulting in unique, fine-furniture detailing on cabinetry

This multi-step process begins with an artistic over-sanding technique applied to corners and relief areas, creating the aged look of fine furniture.

Unfinished doors and drawer heads receive randomly applied worm holes and compression marks to add additional distressing

Next, a dark burnishing stain is artistically applied to all raised or profiled portions of doors and drawer fronts

The burnishing stain is followed by a base color stain, which is then hand-wiped to reveal the beauty and inherent natural characteristics of the wood

As a final step, our oven-cured DuraKraft topcoat is applied to provide a beautiful and durable furniture finish

Finish availability may vary by door style. See Finish Availability Chart

Premium Vintage Finishes

(price book pg. B3)

- Vintage Finish Process

Vintage finishes give the appearance of heirloom cabinetry that has been well loved and used

This multi-step process begins with an artistic over-sanding technique applied to corners and relief areas, creating the aged look of fine furniture.

Unfinished doors and drawer heads receive randomly applied worm holes and compression marks to add additional distressing

Next, several coats of paint finish are applied

The corners and edges of doors and drawers are over-sanded for a second time, revealing the beauty of natural cherry wood

Because this process features distressing, the detail and look will vary from piece to piece

As a final step, our oven-cured DuraKraft topcoat is applied to provide a beautiful and durable furniture finish

Available on selected Cherry door styles. Visible knots and pinholes are natural characteristics of cherry wood and are considered an acceptable part of the overall Vintage finish appearance. See finish availability chart for your specific door style.

Premium Vintage Patina Finishes

(price book pg. B3)

- Vintage Patina Finish Process

Vintage Patina finishes give the appearance of heirloom cabinetry that has been well loved and used. Glaze provides an even richer look.

This multi-step process begins with an artistic over-sanding technique applied to corners and relief areas, creating the aged look of fine furniture.

Unfinished doors and drawer heads receive randomly applied worm holes and compression marks to add additional distressing

Next, several coats of paint finish are applied

The corners and edges of doors and drawers are over-sanded for a second time, revealing the beauty of natural cherry wood

Next, a glaze finish is applied to the entire door or drawer front to add a rich patina to wood surfaces

The glaze is then hand-wiped to penetrate the color and create a soft, light "hang up" in profiles and recesses of the wood door and drawer profiles

Because this process features distressing and glazing, the detail and look will vary from piece to piece

Each door design, wood species and glaze finish has its own charming character and will create a unique, one-of-a-kind look

As a final step, our oven-cured DuraKraft topcoat is applied to provide a beautiful and durable furniture finish

Available on selected Cherry door styles. Visible knots and pinholes are natural characteristics of cherry wood and are considered an acceptable part of the overall Vintage finish appearance. See finish availability chart for your specific door style.
